Discussion and possible motion to approve the District's 2022 Insurance coverage provider: Clint indicated to the Board that the District has had Olympus Insurance as the insurance provider for the last five – six years. They have been a great value for the District. Management did ask Utah Local Governments Trust to give the District a proposal for insurance purposes this year. As the cost of the premiums are compared and the services offered, Olympus Insurance is the preferred provider. Darrel Child addressed the Board informing the Board that Olympus's process each year to perform an onsite evaluation of the District's facilities. Darrell expressed when the onsite visit is done, they are always impressed with the quality of the management, facilities and the investments that are made from the community to provide very good outcomes to the public from water and sewer services. Olympus updates annually all details that an underwriter would look at, as they evaluate and determine the cost of the insurance. All property schedules, inland marine, and vehicle schedules have been updated. This year the underwriters had a focus in a couple of areas. One was in cyber liability, underwriters evaluated the coverage will address the nature of the risk the District may have, and to ensure the District has protocols and procedures in place to prevent these events. Darrell reported to the Board a very thorough process of that has been completed and reviewed by the insurance company. The insurance underwriter has a very high bar on policy holders that they will accept into the cyber liability insurance program, which the District met the underwriter's standards. Another area of focus is to evaluate the excess liability amount the District has in their insurance policy. Olympus feels the District has adequate excess liability coverage currently. When Clint met with Darrell to review the District's policy, it was brought to his attention, included in the policy is ID fraud protection. This is for any employee/board member of the District, if anyone has an event of ID fraud, they can contact the insurance and can get assistance in working through the details of rectifying their identification compromised by the ID fraud. Dallas indicated there was a meeting held to see how much interest there was in the operator challenge. Dallas wanted to know if the Board would be interested in sending operators for the challenge in 2022. The Board wanted to know what the costs would be to assist in making the decision. The Board wanted to see if the money spent on the operator's challenge would be better spent on training our new employees. A motion was made by Jeff White, seconded by Dan Stewart, to table a decision of participating in the operator's challenge in 2022. The motion was approved as follows: Mick Sudbury, yea, Dan Stewart, yea and Jeff White, yea.

Discussion and possible motion to approve awarding the Zone 3 Culinary Water Booster Station Pump Upgrade and Zone 3 Secondary Booster Pump Station project to Newman Construction in the amount of $1,870,480: Trevor indicated this amount includes the bid for moving the stockpile. Further investigation in having Newman move the stockpile (bid schedule C) needs to be performed before its awarded. Staff recommends awarding bid schedules A & B in the amount of $1,690,480. A motion was made by Jeff White, seconded by Dan Stewart, to award the Zone 3 Culinary Water Booster Station Pump Upgrade and Zone 3 Secondary Booster Pump Station project to Newman Construction in the amount of $1,690,480. Discussion and possible motion to approve the Indigo Water contract proposal for WWTP operations assistance, troubleshooting and training: Dallas indicated would like to enter an agreement with Indigo Water to improving the training material and training sources for our operators. They are a firm that offers trainings on process efficiency and provides training material and possible onsite visits if needed. They have an online portfolio of categorical study information that would be beneficial to both our water and wastewater operators. Clint explained that this agreement comes because Dallas has reached out to a certain person at Indigo on several occasions for guidance who has been happy to aid, however, is looking now to have an agreement with the District to charge the District for additional consultation. Jeff indicated he would like to get a project price for training for each employee and a price breakdown for each of the new employees may need. Jeff indicated he would like to have Dallas determine what could be utilized online versus talking to one individual, or even having an onsite visit from Indigo. Jeff also expressed he felt like building an inhouse library with the money would be beneficial also before entering into a contract.

Report & Discussion from General Manager: Clint indicated that the District has continued the interview process for the wastewater collections position. They interviewed someone this week that seems promising and would like to go to the next step, this prospect has already been on the walk through of the facilities. They would like to move to the background check step. This prospect has mechanical background.

OPERATIONS:

Water: Clint indicated there is some safety training options for the employees that they are investigating. There has been a couple of incidents with equipment operation and can see there is a need for additional safety training.

Wastewater: The backup generator is up and going at the wastewater admin building and have been reviewing fuel storage and budgeting for that. Management feels there is significant deficiency in diesel fuel storage in the event of an emergency. Management is actively investigation a solution for this. The District is currently at an eight-hour storage level and would like to be at least at a 24-hour level. Jeff warned Staff of the bacteria that can grow on fuel storage if it is kept too long.

General Office: Some of the outside lights have been replaced at the general office and changed the style of the lighting in the drive through, that are brighter and have helped with the parking lighting.

Discussion on District's actual vs budget status as of November 30,2021: LeIsle informed the Board the actual vs budget status was provided to the Board. As of November 30,2021, we have an overall net income of about $6,000,000. Note that $1,700,000 is noncash revenue from contributed capital from Little Valley Gateway. The other operating income is well above to 2020 due to the hydrant rental and usage. We are 6% lower than 2020 in water sales and 5% below budget. Property tax revenue, we have received almost 85% of the property tax revenue. The overall expenses are below budget, and 14% higher than 2020.

Engineering projects update:

Segment 1a Sewer Project (30" Sewer trunk line): This project is near completion. Whitaker has some manholes that need to be manholes and raise to grade on 21st. They are waiting to complete that until the gas line is complete.

2019 Secondary Water Line Project: The final walk through has been done. Finished all the punch list items, this project is complete.

Water Distribution/Production:

1. Water production report: The culinary water production for November was 98.8 million gallons, an increase of 2.79% from 2020. Year to date production was 1,660.5 million gallons or 5,096.14-acre feet, this is a decrease from YTD 2020 of 11.66%. We have purchased 734.39-acre feet of water from Jordan Valley Water as of November 2021.

2. Call out report: Raymond reported that there was a total of 2 call outs, (1 mainline leaks and 1 miscellaneous) with a total number of 15 hours paid.

WWTP Operation/Collection System:

1. Status of sewer system: Dallas reported Connor McReynolds has passed his Grade IV in Collections this month. There has been no wastewater treatment call outs this month. The status of the plant is great! Samples are good and removal efficiencies are good. We are right where we want to be moving into the cold weather.

Consider action on any noticed agenda item discussed in closed meeting: Nathan Bracken indicated during the closed session there have been discussion regarding pending litigation and at the last meeting the Board authorized the acceptance of the settlement offer regarding Terry Pollock's employment lawsuit against the District. Katy Steffey, legal counsel with Smith Hartvigsen PLLC, explained the following: As you all know, Terry Pollock brought a lawsuit against the District claiming discrimination and breach of contract. He was seeking $100,000's. He ended up extending an offer of $30,000 which would be covered mostly by the District's insurance carrier and then also the District to continue insurance coverage which is something he would be entitled to as a retiring General Manager. That is essentially the terms of the settlement agreement said forth. They have the payment which would be issued by the District and or it's insurer within 21 days from the effective date of the agreement which means if the agreement is signed today, it would be due 21 days from today. Beginning December 1, 2021, and forward until both Terry Pollock and his wife are no longer alive the District would provide the Medicare supplement plan coverage premiums and those are provided as a reimbursement. Terry pays for the premium, and the District will reimburse every month with the first payroll of each month. As a result of this settlement agreement, once the settlement payment is made within three days Mr. Pollock must dismiss the lawsuit and there is a mutual release meaning both parties relieve each other related to any claims regarding Mr. Pollock's employment. The settlement agreement was signed by Terry on 12/08/2021 and if the District signed today, today is the effective date of the agreement. A motion was made by Jeff White, seconded by Mick Sudbury, to approve the proposed agreement between Terry Pollock and the District. The motion was approved as follows: Mick Sudbury, yea, Dan Stewart, yea and Jeff White, yea.

Adjourn: Having no further business to discuss, a motion was made by Jeff White, seconded by Dan Stewart, to adjourn the meeting at 1:56 pm. The motion was approved as follows: Jeff White, yea, Dan Stewart, yea, and Mick Sudbury, yea.

Executive Summary

Magna Water District (MWD) commissioned this study to identify the projects needed to improve influent pumping at their Wastewater Treatment Plant (WWTP). Currently, MWD operations staff bypass the West Headworks because the aged equipment is no longer operational. This causes hydraulic back-ups to the trunk sewers that result in solids deposition that requires extra maintenance cleans. Additionally, this means that all influent flows are pumped by the influent pumps at the East Headworks. These pumps require frequent maintenance and are undersized for handling the full incoming flow.

The results and recommendations of this report include constructing a new stand-alone Influent Pump Station sized located at an elevation that prevents hydraulic back-ups to the trunk sewers. This new Influent Pump Station should be sized for 6 million gallons per day (MGD) initially, but designed such that it can be easily expanded to a capacity of 8 MGD (projected 2060 peak hour flows). The East Headworks and existing downstream treatment processes can accommodate up to 6 MGD of flow if the existing Blend Pump Station in the East Headworks is upsized. The existing screening and grit equipment in the East Headworks has a firm capacity of 6 MGD. A new Grit Washing Building is required before complete abandonment of the West Headworks is possible. The total project cost of a new Influent Pump Station, East Headworks modifications, and new Grit Washing Building is estimated at just under $5.3M. These facilities could be online in 2024 if notice to proceed for design is given in early 2022. An additional train or trains of treatment infrastructure will be required once incoming peak hour flows exceed 6.0 MGD, which is projected for 2035. MWD should consider updating the 2015 Sewer Treatment Master Plan to identify concepts for future WWTP expansion.

1. Background and Objectives

Magna Water District (MWD) owns and operates an existing wastewater treatment plant (WWTP) located at 2100 South 7600 West in Magna, Utah. The existing WWTP is currently operating at an average daily flow (ADF) of 2.4 million gallons per day (MGD) and is permitted for an ADF of 4 MGD. Peak hour flow (PHF) has reached 4.6 MGD in the year 2021.

Trunk sewers from the east and west sides of the MWD service area collect and convey wastewater to the WWTP. These trunk sewers currently terminate at a single influent box at the front end of the WWTP. This influent box connects both the East and West Headworks facilities and allows flow to be split between or directed to one or other of the two headworks facilities. Typically, the West Headworks is bypassed, and all influent is treated through the East Headworks. MWD operations staff have been directing all influent wastewater flows to the East Headworks (built in 2007) for nearly a decade because the equipment in the West Headworks (original headworks, built in the early 1990s) has aged and is no longer in working order. The hydraulics of this bypassing results in solids deposition in both the east and west trunk sewers. Additionally, the influent submersible pumps at the East Headworks require frequent maintenance and are undersized to handle the full influent flow; at firm capacity a maximum of 2.9 MGD can be conveyed.

Additionally, MWD owns and operates an RV dump station located along the roadway in front of the WWTP. Flows from the RV dump are conveyed into the west truck sewer currently. MWD wants to make sure that as part of this evaluation that conveyance and temporary storage of RV flows ahead of the influent pump station are considered.

The purpose of this study is to evaluate options for a new influent pump station for MWD's WWTP that matches permitted treatment capacity, minimizes any hydraulic surcharge or water backing to the existing trunk sewers, incorporates the RV dump, and has low maintenance requirements. Furthermore, this study will evaluate equipment and operations needs at the East Headworks should the West Headworks be abandoned permanently. At a minimum, the pump stations in the East Headworks, both influent and blend, will need to be replaced and upsized. Also, grit removed from wastewater flows at the vortex grit systems in the East Headworks is currently pumped to the West Headworks for washing and disposal. This grit washing equipment will need to be relocated or replaced in a new facility adjacent to the East Headworks.

The goal of this pre-design study is to provide MWD with recommendations for influent pumping, identify needed East Headworks modifications to treat flows up to 6 MGD, and develop a concept for a new grit washing facility which can be used for budgeting and facility planning. MWD hired the Stantec Consulting Inc. (Stantec) and Bowen Collins & Associates (BCA) team to perform the evaluations needed for this influent project.

2. Basis of Design

Flow data from 2018 through present day was compiled and evaluated in order determine the average annual day flow (AADF), max month average day flow (MMF), and peak hour flow (PHF) that sets the basis of design for this study. Current 2021 flows for AADF, MMF, and PHF are 2.3, 2.9, and 4.6 million gallons per day (MGD). The provided data showed close correlation and agreement to the anticipated flows by the 2020 Sewer Master Plan (see Attachment 1). Peaking factors were confirmed at 1.0 for AADF, 1.25 for MMF, and 2.0 for PHF, corresponding to the year 2035 flows of 2.95, 3.70, and 5.90 MGD respectively. The buildout flow is anticipated to be 7.40 MGD (PHF) in 2060 (see Attachment 2). Brine pump station flows can add approximately 0.7 MGD during its maintenance or outage. Thus, the influent pump station (before screens and grit removal) must handle about 8 MGD at buildout PHF. Flow projections to do not include any side stream recycles from treatment processes back to the Influent Pump Station, but will be considered during design.

Current and projected wastewater flows (MGD)	2021	2035	2060
AADF	2.3	3.0	3.7
MMF	2.9	3.7	4.6
PHF	4.6	5.9	7.4

Table 1: Summary of current and projected wastewater flows in 2021 and forecasted flows in 2035 and 2060 (Flows do not include side stream recycles).

To pump and screen flows greater than 6 MGD as forecasted around the year 2035, additional infrastructure is necessary as identified in the 2015 Treatment Facility Master Plan. This suggests a need to revise and update the 2015 Master Plan to include expansion strategies and identify conceptual expansion plan layouts.

For this study, a new influent pump station will be evaluated based on the 2060 peak hour flow of 7.4 MGD plus the 0.7 MGD flow additional if the brine pump station were out of service due to maintenance or power failure for a total flow of approximately 8 MGD. The East Headworks will be evaluated based on providing capacity for the 2035 flows only, as this is the limit of the current treatment process downstream. An additional treatment train(s) or capacity upgrade will be required starting in 2035 to have the treatment capacity necessary for 2060 flows. A kickoff meeting was held on September 23, 2021. Concept workshops were held on October 25 and 27, 2021. Workshops were split into the headworks evaluation and the pump station evaluation. Workshop outcomes, evaluation findings, and additional details are presented herein.

3. East Headworks Evaluation

MWD operations staff have directed incoming wastewater flows to the East Headworks and bypassed the West Headworks for nearly a decade. Although this operation strategy has been advantageous due to aged equipment in the West Headworks, this causes hydraulic backups and solids deposition in both the east and west trunk sewers. No formal review of the true capacity of the East Headworks has occurred until this study. As stated in the previous Basis of Design Section, the equipment and capacity of the East Headworks will be evaluated based on the anticipated 2035 peak hour flow of approximately 6 MGD (rounded up to the nearest MGD). This 6 MGD flow is also the limit of existing treatment infrastructure downstream of the East Headworks. To be compliant with Utah Division of Water Quality (UDWQ) regulations, the equipment in the East Headworks must have capacities sufficient to pass the peak hour flow with one unit (the largest) out of service. At MWD's WWTP units are of identical size. Total capacity is the sum of all installed equipment. Firm capacity is defined as the capacity with one unit or the largest unit out of service whether for service in an emergency, rotational normal operation, or for scheduled maintenance planning. UDWQ permits and rates facilities based on firm capacity.

The East Headworks was constructed and put into service in 2007, resulting in an age of 14 years in 2021, for most of the equipment. The building was expanded in 2010 for the addition of fine screens. Initially there was only one screen installed, but a second fine screen was added sometime between 2012 and 2015. A typical service life for wastewater treatment plant equipment is 20 years. In discussion with manufacturers who provided the existing headworks equipment at MWD's WWTP, some screens (depending on wastewater characteristics) may last longer than 20 years. Given that we are evaluating the East Headworks on 2035 flow projections, it is important to keep in mind that most of the existing equipment will likely need refurbishment or replacement prior to 2035, assuming the typical 20-year lifespan.

From reviews of as-built drawings and researching equipment submittals, the capacity of East Headworks equipment is summarized in Table 2.

Equipment	Total Capacity (# of units: MGD)	Firm Capacity (# of units: MGD)
Influent Pumps	Three: 4.3	Two: 2.9
Coarse Screen	Two: 12.0	One: 6.0
Vortex Grit	Two: 14.0	One: 7.0
Fine Screen	Two: 11.6	One: 5.8
Effluent Pumps	Three: 5.6	Two: 3.7

Table 2: Existing East Headworks equipment and capacities.

Comparing the capacities shown for existing East Headworks equipment in Table 2 to the 2035 peak hour flow of 6.0 MGD, the influent and effluent (each a set of three submersible pumps) do not have sufficient capacity. The coarse screens, vortex grit system, and fine screens all provide firm capacity for 6.0 MGD. (The fine screening capacity falls slightly short at 5.8 MGD but this could be addressed with greater frequency of cycling or slightly larger perforation size during a refurbishment to pass 6 MGD.) Firm capacity for all East Headworks equipment is less than the 2060 flow condition of 8 MGD as a peak hour flow, further demonstrating the need for additional treatment train in the future. For additional information on existing East Headworks equipment refer to Attachment 3. To improve the capacity of influent pumping at the East Headworks, a new influent pump station is proposed upstream and separate from the East Headworks. This new influent pump station will be addressed and evaluated later in this report. The second pump station in the East Headworks, known as the Blend Pump Station, pumps wastewater that has been screened and degritted to the oxidation ditch. This pump station must be increased in size with either larger pumps or the addition of a fourth pump.

An additional equipment item to be considered is that grit collected in the vortex grit system of the East Headworks is pumped to a single grit washer located in the West Headworks. To fully abandon the West Headworks, a grit washing system must be added near the East Headworks. A new building is required as there is no room in the existing East Headworks for grit washing equipment. This new facility needs to be large enough to house two grit washing units, as the existing operation with only one unit does not meet UDWQ requirements. Alternatives for a new grit facility from both an equipment and facility location perspective are evaluated in the section that follows.

Recommended Alternatives for Grit Washing Equipment and New Facility

MWD could keep their existing Huber grit washer and buy one additional, identical unit, or MWD could also buy two new Huber units. The existing Huber grit washer was installed in the West Headworks prior to construction of the East Headworks and thus has been in service for over 15 years. Alternatively, MWD could install two Smith & Loveless (S&L) units. These mentioned manufacturers are reputable and well-established in the wastewater industry. Other manufacturers, such as Vulcan, could be another option and should be evaluated during detailed design. Between the Huber and Smith & Loveless units are some distinct differences, mostly dimensionally. The S&L grit washer is narrower but longer than the Huber grit washer (see Attachments 4 and 5 for more detail on Huber and S&L equipment, respectively). This has implications on the building's size. For either equipment option, one new building sized to house two grit washing units will be required.

	Huber COANDA RoSF4, Size	Smith & Loveless Model 250
Length	13 ft ½ in	18 ft 1 in
Width	5 ft 10-3/8 in	3 ft 0 in
Height	8 ft 5-1/2 in	9 ft 3 in
Pumping	Average flow of 125 gpm, Max flow of 150 gpm	Design flow of 250 gpm

Table 3: Comparison of Huber and Smith & Loveless grit washing equipment.

As seen in Table 3 above, the other difference between Huber and S&L equipment is the flow rate of grit pumped to the grit washing equipment. Huber sizes to accommodate average expected grit flow, S&L pumps a constant higher flow. S&L prefers a higher rate to prevent clogging or related issues. Some of S&L customers have found issues with pumping flows around three feet per second (approximately 125 gallons per minute (gpm) through a four-inch diameter pipe), and thus S&L changed to an increased velocity. Their opinion is that increased electrical demand outweighs the possible maintenance woes and increased (improved) removal percentiles. For the 2007 East Headworks project, the S&L vortex grit system was provided with smaller than normal pumps to match up with the Huber grit washer that MWD already had in service. Should MWD select S&L grit washing equipment as part of this project, S&L would require that larger pumps be added to the existing vortex grit system.

A new building is needed to house the grit washing equipment. For sizing purposes, the goal was to preserve approximately six feet of space around equipment, between building entries and equipment or equipment related accessories. The S&L grit washers are narrow and could share one common dumpster. Huber grit washing units are too wide for such arrangement and needs one designated dumpster per grit washer; this might be adjustable through means of an extended chute if a single dumpster setup is preferred. As depicted within Figure 2 and Figure 3, a building housing S&L would likely be around 700 square feet. A building housing Huber equipment would be wider, but slightly shorter, about 900 square feet.

While a 200 square-foot difference in building space may be significant it is likely offset by the pumps that would need to be added for S&L equipment. Therefore, for purposes of sitting and costing, the larger 30 by 30-foot layout shown in Figure 3 was used.

Originally, the space northwest of the existing East Headworks was identified for a possible placement of a new building. After researching record drawings, that space is densely occupied with at least seven underground utilities needed for continuous plant operation that could pose a challenge when attempting to bypass, making the space less ideal for new building placement. Instead, other locations were identified as possible alternatives as shown in Figure 4 below. For more detail on these site location alternatives, see Attachments 6 through 9.

Figure 4: Alternative Grit Washing Building locations (orange) compared to original planned location northwest corner of East Headworks (yellow). Squares shown are approximately 30 feet by 30 feet.

The three alternative Grit Washing Building locations proposed are summarized and compared in Table 5.

Alternative No. 1 , North of East Headworks, East of existing road	Alternative No. 2 , Northwest of East Headworks in grass area	Alternative No. 3, repurpose existing West Headworks
New facility	New facility	Repurpose, remodel
Least interference with existing utilities	Need to relocate power, some other encroachments	Unknown condition of structure
Grit pumping distance estimated around 160 ft	Grit pumping distance estimated around 160 ft	Shortest grit pumping distance estimated around 120 ft
Location not likely required for future expansion	Location not likely required for future expansion	Repurpose already occupied space, but may be a better fit new facility for operations staff

Table 5: Grit Washing Building location alternatives comparison.

Alternatives No. 1 and 2 are new facilities located in areas where construction can occur with minimal impact to existing utilities. The downside to the facilities is a longer pumping distance for grit slurry, which increases the chance of plugging especially at bends and fittings along the pipe route. Alternative No. 3 may have the shortest pumping distance but the risk (cost) of this alternative is the repurposing of the existing facility. There is not enough room to add a second grit washer to the area in the West Headworks where the existing unit resides. Remodeling and demolition of the West Headworks may be more expensive and may encumber an area which may be better used for operations staff needs. Furthermore, bringing an existing building to current codes may be cost prohibitive. If Alternatives No. 1 or 2 were implemented, the West Headworks could be abandoned, and no cost would be incurred until the future best use of the space could be determined. In comparing Alternatives No. 1 and 2. Alternative No. 1 may be preferred as it is a straighter layout for grit pumping and allows for potentially easier construction sequencing (existing grit lines to the west can be left in service while new grit lines can be constructed to the east). Additionally, Alternative No 1 is closer and potentially more compatible with future expansion of the East Headworks which would occur on the east side. For these reasons, Alternative No. 1 is recommended as the preferred alternative. As part of the Alternative No.1 concept, south or west facing doors are preferred to minimize ice accumulation during winter months.

4. New Pump Station Evaluation

The existing influent pump station located in the East Headworks utilizes three (2+1 configuration) 15 HP submerged chopper pumps to transfer wastewater to the coarse screen channels. The chopper feature provides protection for the pumps as there is no upstream screening. The pump station has a firm capacity of 2.9 MGD with each pump designed for a 1,000 gpm maximum flow. Current peak hour flows have been observed to reach as high as 3.5 MGD, exceeding the rated firm capacity of the influent pump station.

There are occasions when the pump station does not have sufficient firm pumping capacity or wet well storage/buffer capacity to sustain the incoming flows with only two pumps operating. When all three pumps are operated at total capacity to meet the peak flow conditions, then redundancy falls to zero with no standby capability in case of pump failure or non-performance.

During these peak flow conditions, operators at the MWD WWTP have observed wastewater backing up into the main collection vault and into the east and west trunk lines. When wastewater backs up into the collection system, settling of solids in the pipelines and manholes occurs. It has been determined from recent field measurements that the west trunk line has a lower invert elevation and is more susceptible to solids settling. Due to minimal slope in the 30-inch diameter sewer line between the West Headworks Building and the new sanitary sewer manhole located along 2100 South, solids settling progresses further out into the collection system. Settled solids require increased maintenance to flush the pipelines and clear manholes to avoid reduced operational capacity.

Due to limited pumping capacity of the existing influent pump station, along with the routing of the existing influent piping, it is recommended that a new influent pump station be constructed exterior of the East Headworks. The new pump station will provide sufficient pumping capacity to meet current and projected future peak flows and will allow for influent piping to be re-routed such that velocities are maintained preventing solids deposition.

The existing WWTP site shown in Attachment 10 has multiple utilities located around the East and West Headworks Buildings and southward towards the fence line. In addition to sanitary sewer lines, these utilities include potable water, non-potable water, underground electrical power, natural gas, waste activated sludge, and others. Before detailed design begins on a new influent pump station, a thorough utility search is required to coordinate the design and construction of the new facility with these lines to ensure measures are taken to protect or relocate them.

This section describes and evaluates influent pump station alternatives for Phase 1 of the MWD WWTP Influent Project. The MWD WWTP influent pump station conveys raw influent wastewater from the main collection system to the headworks facility to begin the treatment process. As discussed previously in this report, peak hour flows of approximately 8.0 MGD are projected at the 2060 buildout with the combined WWTP and Brine waste flows. Current low flow conditions are observed at the WWTP can reach as low as 1.3 MGD. This range (1.3-8.0 MGD) is used as the flow design criteria for the influent pump station alternatives.

This report evaluates two pump station alternatives: a Screw Pump Station and a Wet Well/Dry Pit Pump Station. The following paragraphs briefly describe each of these alternatives including identifying advantages and disadvantages of each.

Screw Pump Station

Archimedes screw pumps have been utilized in water conveyance for hundreds of years and are a proven reliable and robust option for wastewater influent pump stations. As shown in Figure 5, a screw pump consists of an inclined large diameter steel screw with bearing supports located at the top and bottom of the screw. The drive motor is located on the top end. Bearings can have a design life of 20 or more years and be automatically or permanently lubricated. The size and number of flights on the screw vary based on capacity requirements. Screw pumps provide a simple system that historically has required minimal maintenance.

Screw pump operation matches influent flow conditions to convey the wastewater to the headworks process. This is accomplished by channeling all flows from the main collection system to a wet well or sump where the bottom of an inclined screw pump is located. As the level in the wet well increases, the amount of water encountered and conveyed by each flight of the screw pump also increases. Since screw pumps do not require priming or risk damage by cavitation, they can operate even when the level in the wet well is below the touch point in a "dry" condition.

Screw pumps typically run at a constant speed but operate in a variable capacity mode via the liquid level variation in the sump as described above. The head or lift is relatively constant as the flow is continuously discharged near the top of the screw as shown in Figure 5.

*From Aissa, Walid. (2021). Preliminary Design and Cost Estimation of Wastewater Treatment Unit

Figure 6 contains photos of two screw pump stations, one at the Moab, Utah WRF and the other at the St. George, Utah WRF, both facilities designed by BC&A. The size and capacity of the Moab screw pump station are similar to that proposed for the MWD WWTP Influent Pump Station, while the other is much larger at 50 MGD. The screws are covered with fiberglass covers for safety, and stairs lead from the top of the screws down to the sump below. Motors for the St. George screw pumps are located in a motor room, while the Moab screw pump motors are situated outdoors. Ventilation of the area under the covers for odor control is provided for the St. George facility, and the Moab covers are not mechanically ventilated and rely on air movement by convection.

A key advantage of screw pumps is that they generally do not require coarse screening for protection. Small or large debris or grit is simply conveyed up the screw and channeled to the headworks facility. For this project, the existing coarse screening installed in the East Headworks Building should be capable of handling material discharged from a screw pump.

Screw Pump Design Criteria

The Utah Department of Environmental Quality (UDEQ) requires that wastewater pump stations have sufficient redundancy to allow treatment operations to continue unabated during routine equipment maintenance or in the event of equipment failure. The design criteria for the Screw Pump Station alternative includes the following parameters.

- 8.0 MGD reliable capacity
- 3 screw pumps installed, 4.0 MGD capacity each, 2 + 1 configuration
- 15 feet TDH (to be verified during final design)
- Effluent flow measurement with Parshall flume or magnetic flow meter

The construction cost of a screw pump station depends on the design requirements and associated parameters. Given the flows and lift required at the MWD WWTP given above to transport the raw influent from the low point of the collection system to the headworks, the construction cost of a screw pump station is expected to be generally competitive with most other types of wastewater pump stations.

As part of this influent pump station evaluation, a budgetary pre-design proposal for screw pump equipment manufactured by Epic International, Inc. was considered. Attachment 11 shows a conceptual design for the MWD WWTP Screw Pump Station. The conceptual design meets the above parameters and the following additional manufacturer criteria.

- 40-inch diameter screws
- 37° incline
- 3 installed flights on each screw
- 20 HP drive motor for each screw pump

Screw Pump Conceptual Layout

Using the conceptual design of the screw pump station, potential locations for the facility were investigated. Various constraints such as those listed below were considered.

- Continued WWTP operation during construction, and bypass options

- Existing utilities in the area
- Shoring required for construction
- Future expansion of the WWTP and possible connection locations

Attachment 12 shows a location determined to be suitable for pre-design purposes. Upstream from a new main collection manhole (to be installed), two sampling/monitoring manholes will be installed on the east and west trunk lines, respectively. These manholes will also be equipped with non-contact flow meters to individually monitor the flow of each trunk line. The new main collection manhole will collect influent from the east and west trunk lines and direct it to another new manhole which will divert the flow to the screw pump station wet well.

The conceptual design utilizes an open channel Parshall flume for flow measurement on the discharge side of the screw pump station. However, a magnetic flow meter located in a vault on a buried and surcharged line segment could also be used if preferred. Once wastewater has passed through flow measurement, it is conveyed via a buried pipeline to the existing coarse screen channel in the East Headworks Building.

Wet Well/Dry Pit Pump Station

The second alternative investigated is a wet well/dry pit type pump station. In this alternative, the pumps are located in a dry pit adjacent to the wet well. A wet well/dry pit configuration provides access to the pumps and mechanical equipment in a dry environment for easier service and repair. Access to the dry pit can be at grade or through a building as shown in the photographs in Figure 7 of two recent similar projects designed by BC&A.

Since submersible pumps are utilized in the dry pit, that concept allows the pumps to continue operating in the event of flooding of that structure until the situation can be corrected. Pump motors may be either liquid cooled by pumped media in an integral cooling jacket or cooled with attached fans. These concepts are differentiated as "submersible" versus "submergible" motor configurations. Dry pit submersible pumps can remain in operation indefinitely whether flooded or dry. Submergible pumps with fans can operate in a flooded condition indefinitely, but the fans will be damaged and require replacement when flooding is corrected.

Other advantages of a wet well/dry pit pump station include the ability to add or upgrade pumps in the future should flow requirements change. Future expansion connections may be installed in a wet well/dry pit to accommodate additional pumps. Pumps with increased head and flow requirements may be installed in existing or new slots if adequately sized for that eventuality.

In order to provide protection for the submersible dry pit pumps, grinders or screens are required prior to the wet well to minimize clogging and/or damage to the pumps. It is also possible to utilize chopper pumps in the dry pit, but chopper pumps may not be as efficient as a grinder and submersible dry pit pump combination. The addition of grinders, screens or chopper pumps to any system brings additional aspects of installation and operating costs and maintenance requirements that should be considered in determining the optimum configuration.

Wet Well/Dry Pit Pump Design Criteria

To meet the minimum and maximum design flow range, variable frequency drives (VFDs) are included in the design criteria. The use of VFDs also reduces the number of pump start/stop cycles required to maintain a proper level in the wet well. For capacity and redundancy requirements, the initial design criteria of the wet well/dry pit pump station alternative for MWD WWTP includes the following parameters.

- 8.0 MGD reliable capacity
- 4 dry pit submersible pumps installed, 2.67 MGD capacity each, 3 + 1 configuration
- 15 HP motors with VFD control installed for each pump
- 20 feet TDH (to be verified during final design)
- 2 channel grinders, 5 HP each, 1+1 configuration
- Flow measurement with magnetic flow meter

With VFDs installed on the submersible dry pit pumps, the assumed minimum turndown of the pump motor (~60% pump flow capacity – to be verified during final design) would result in minimum flow capacity of approximately 1.6 MGD. If the low flow condition entering the wet well is below 1.6 MGD, the submersible pumps may operate in a start/stop condition to maintain the operating level in the wet well during brief overnight diurnal periods. If needed or desired, smaller capacity pumps could be installed to better meet initial flow conditions, and then replaced with full capacity pumps in the future for increased flows.

The wet well/dry pit pump station includes a self-cleaning wet well design per The Hydraulic Institute and Pump Station Design text by Sanks, et. al. This is accomplished in part by dropping the floor in the wet well below the furthest pump suction inlet to allow or enable more effective flushing and cleaning. Pump controls may be set so the wet well can be self-cleaned at periodic intervals or when deemed necessary automatically or manually by human operator determination.

BC&A recently completed a wet well/dry pit pump station design for the Salt Lake City Department of Public Utilities with similar design criteria to this project and it was used as a basis of design and reference for a budgetary cost evaluation. Attachment 13 shows a conceptual design for the MWD WWTP Wet Well/Dry Pit Pump Station.

The conceptual design includes a grinder vault with two channel type grinders installed. If chopper pumps were to be installed in the dry pit, this vault would not be required, and influent flow would enter directly into the wet well. A building structure is also shown above the dry pit. Architectural features were not included in the conceptual design. These design requirements and other features such as an overhead bridge crane would be determined in the detailed design phase; note that details such as these may add costs – contingencies can account for some.

Wet Well/Dry Pit Pump Conceptual Layout

Using the conceptual design of the wet well/dry pit pump station, locations for the wet well/dry pit pump station were investigated. The same site constraints mentioned in the placement of the screw pump station alternative were considered. Since the wet well/dry pit pump station has a smaller footprint than the screw pump station, more options exist for its location. Attachment 14 shows a conceptual location that was determined to be suitable for pre-design purposes.

Similar to the screw pump station alternative, prior to a new main collection manhole, two monitoring manholes will be installed on the east and west trunk lines. The new main collection manhole will collect influent from the east and west trunk lines and then direct it to another new manhole which will direct the flow into the grinder channel and then to the wet well.

A magnetic flow meter housed inside a vault just inside the existing roadway will be utilized for flow measurement. Once the wastewater passes through the flow meter, it follows the same path as the screw pump station alternative to the existing coarse screen channel in the East Headworks Building to continue through the existing treatment path. It may be possible to install the magnetic flow meter inside of or contiguous with the dry pit and eliminate the need for and cost of a separate meter vault structure.

Screw Pump vs Wet Well/Dry Pit Pump Comparison

Both alternatives have different equipment and design options that may be further investigated during the detailed design phase of the project. A summary of the main advantages and disadvantages of these alternatives is shown in Table 4.

Hydraulic or pumping efficiency is not addressed in the table as this criterion is specific to the equipment being considered and may favor one or the other depending on conditions and how well they fit the particular manufactured unit. However, it is the opinion of the engineering consultant based on experience that any difference in hydraulic efficiency will be relatively small and unlikely to affect the outcome of the selection process.

Motor and other electrical efficiencies generally will also be similar. However as noted, VFDs have an electrical efficiency of approximately 97%, and this loss translates into increased electrical power costs for the dry pit submersible pumps.

As previously detailed in this report, several factors should be considered when determining which alternative to pursue for the MWD WWTP including the following.

- Future flow and TDH requirements
- Existing site constraints and layout options
- O&M requirements

Construction costs and project schedule constraints should also be considered for these alternatives which will be detailed in the following sections.

RV Dump Station

MWD owns and maintains a RV Dump Station located along 2100 South in front of the WWTP. The RV Dump Station is provided as a community service by MWD but has also been a concern for WWTP operations due to the potential of high strength waste or unknown wastes being dumped directly into the inlet of the WWTP. MWD would like to consider as a future project an underground storage vault for the RV dump waste such that wastes could be monitored and slowly added to the WWTP.

The proposed Influent Pump Station, for either the screw pump or wet well/dry pit configurations, fits on the site without conflicting with the existing RV Dump Station (see Attachments 12 and 14, the RV Dump Station is located just off page to the west of these layouts). Additionally, the deepest part of the proposed pump stations is 20-25 feet below existing grade. While record drawings of the RV Dump Station were not available for review as part of this study, it is believed that there would be plenty of fall between the RV Dump Station and the inlet of the new Influent Pump Station for both a small holding tank and gravity conveyance of flow. Upgrades to the RV Dump Station could be added to the Influent Pumping Project but are not currently included in the cost estimates for this study.

Recommendation

As listed above both pump station alternatives have advantages and disadvantages associated with each. Both pump station concepts are commonly used to pump influent wastewater flows and would reliably meet the influent pump station requirements. As part of the preliminary evaluation effort, MWD staff visited similar operating installations for both alternatives. Based upon these site visits and discussions with their operations staff, along with its competitive cost, simple operation and minimized maintenance requirements, MWD expressed a desire to move forward with the screw pump station alternative. As a result, the screw pump alternative is recommended for the MWD WWTP.

5. Recommendation and Implementation

The peak hour flow to MWD WWTP in 2060 is estimated at 8.0 MGD from the projections of the 2021 Sewer Master Plan projects combined with the potential of the Brine Pump Station (external to this facility) being out of service. A modified East Headworks and downstream treatment processes can handle a peak hour flow of 6.0 MGD which is projected to occur in 2035. Beyond flows of 6.0 MGD, an additional train or trains will be required at MWD WWTP.

Required modifications at the East Headworks include increasing the capacity of both the influent and blend pump stations as well as adding a new grit washing facility with a redundant grit washer. Rather than modifying the existing influent pump station, MWD directed that a new separate facility, either screw pump or wet well/dry pit configurations, be evaluated as outlined in this report. This new influent pump station should be sized for the 8 MGD buildout condition and configured to prevent hydraulic back-ups in the trunk sewers. MWD operations staff favor the screw pump configuration, but for purposes of costing the higher cost option of wet well/dry pit was carried forward in the cost estimate.

The blend pump station capacity could be increased by upsizing pumps or adding a fourth, slightly bigger pump, increasing from the current 3.7 MGD firm capacity to 6 MGD (one existing pump has capacity of 1.85 MGD). Adding a fourth pump is potentially the least disruptive and costly option. However, to be conservative in project budgeting the cost estimate includes the cost of three new higher capacity pumps. This pump station may also want to be renamed to Intermediate Pump Station as Blend Pump Station is no longer accurate.

Alternative No. 1 is recommended for building a new Grit Washing Building as this location may have the least conflicts with existing infrastructure and be the easiest alternative to construct. Both Huber, S&L, and others make high quality grit washing equipment and the selection of the manufacturer for this project could be a bid day decision based on lowest cost.

The proposed new Influent Pump Station and Grit Washing Building could all be powered off the existing power service that feeds the West Headworks, based on evaluation of conceptual design horsepower for new equipment. The existing service has spare capacity as it is used to feed the Aeration equipment at the oxidation ditches. It is assumed for this study that the Influent Pump Station and Grit Washing Building would each have a room or dedicated area for MCC equipment, and the power feed could be rerouted from the existing service without the need for a new service or switchgear equipment. However, this needs to be confirmed during design. The Blend (Intermediate) pump station is powered from electrical equipment in the existing BIOBROX Building. Removal of the Influent Pump Station load from this feed likely frees up capacity for Blend (Intermediate) Pump Station upsizing, but this too needs to be confirmed during design. Part of this investigation will be verifying onsite backup generator capacity.

Budget

For budgetary and planning purposes, the estimate table below reflects the chosen options: the screw pump station, two new grit washers and new pumps for the existing vortex grit system. Lump sum costs include a 25 percent construction cost contingency. Contractor overhead and profit was assumed to be 10 percent. Engineering, administration, and legal expenses for the project were estimated with a markup of 18 percent. The total estimated project cost for a new Influent Pump Station, modified East Headworks, and new Grit Washing Building is just over $5.3 million dollars. This cost estimate is a Class 5 Opinions of Probable Construction Cost, which is typical for a planning level study. Typical accuracy ranges from 20 percent to 50 percent on the low side, and plus 30 percent to 100 percent on the high side.

Description	Unit	Cost
Influent Pump Station	LS	$2,600,000
New Screw Pump Station (includes 25% contingency)
East Headworks Improvements	LS	$1,500,000
New Grit Building, Duty & Standby Equip, New Blend Pumps (includes 25% contingency)
Contractor Overhead and Profit	10%	$410,000
Subtotal		$4,510,000
Engineering, Administration, and Legal	18%	$812,000
Estimated Capital Cost		$5,322,000

Table 5: Total estimated project cost summary

Things that are not included directly in the construction cost estimate but could impact the overall price, if they result in more than the 30% contingency assumed, are listed below. These items need to be considered during detailed design:

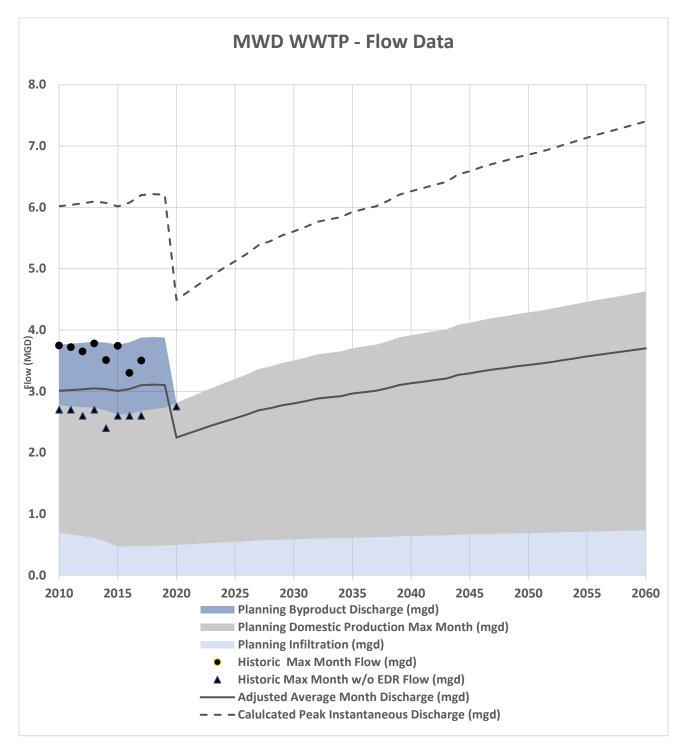

- Electrical capacity/demands and backup power capacity.
- Unknown subsurface conditions, such as geotechnical features requiring special foundations or utilities that need to be re-routed.
- Construction escalation recent market changes have been difficult to predict and longer than normal lead times have been observed.
- Architectural features for the building.

Implementation Schedule

Table 6 below lists expected durations for design and construction phases of the project. Project review milestones can be adjusted during design phase scoping to the preference of MWD. With early approval, the design phase can conclude at the end of 2022. The construction phase could then take place in the year 2023, possibly finishing by the end of the year but more likely by mid-2024.

50% Design	12 weeks, includes 2 weeks for MWD review
90% Design	12 weeks, includes 2 weeks MWD review
Final review and bid set	4 weeks
Permitting	10 weeks, UDWQ requires 8 weeks plus 2 weeks for any adjustments
Bidding period	6 weeks, includes 2 weeks to award
Design period incl. bid, total	44 weeks (appx. 10 months)
Construction period	12 to 15 months

EDR PLANT

TECHNICAL MEMORANDUM

TO:	Trevor Andra, Magna Water District
FROM:	Cody Nelson, Bowen Collins & Associates
DATE:	12/28/2021
SUBJECT:	Corrosion Assessment of Chemical and Chlorine Rooms at EDR Water Treatment Plant
JOB NO.:	483-19-02

CORROSION ASSESSMENT OF CHEMICAL AND CHLORINE ROOMS

INTRODUCTION

The Magna Water District (MWD) requested the corrosion services of Bowen Collins & Associates (BC&A) to help evaluate corrosion issues that have been observed in the electrodialysis reversal (EDR) water treatment facility.

This Technical Memorandum (TM) contains summary of the engineering observations and recommendations for the best course of action to address the problems discovered. Also contained in this document are photographs taken during the observations.

CORROSION ASSESSMENT

The assessment involved determining the source of the corrosion within the EDR building. BC&A determined that the corrosion was from the Hydrochloric Acid (HCl) and the vapors associated with this product (Figure 1). From our observations, it was discovered that there were three areas that were affected by the HCl.

The first area affected by the HCl was the concrete floor and the coating system (see Figure 2). From our observations, it is likely the failure occurred from a weakened coating system and inadequate surface preparation. The HCl breaks down the concrete and causes it to become weak, which will cause it to crumble from any stresses that are placed in the exposed area (see Figure 3). This can also affect any rebar that has been placed in the concrete to become exposed to the HCl and corrode. This will ultimately cause more damage to the weakened structure as the rebar will expand as it corrodes. To protect the concrete flooring, a coating system was put in place. While this can be helpful in protecting the concrete, which was the intent of the original design, failure of the concrete coating system can still occur. The failure may be attributed to a lack of adequate surface preparation and an incompatible coating system (see Figure 4). Both failures are found in the EDR building.

The second issue discovered during the observation was improper material selection for areas that require support on exposed steel, galvanized steel, copper piping, and stainless steel. The exposed steel was found at bolted connections, concrete tie downs, and other various steel surfaces, and had surface rust from being exposed (see Figure 5). The galvanized material found on the HVAC duct work, Unistrut supports, and other galvanized material offers great protection when put in an atmospheric condition. When the galvanized material is put in acidic conditions, the Zinc (galvanize) will react quickly and not provide proper protection (see Figure 6). The copper does not corrode as quickly as the steel and the galvanized material, but it will still corrode when exposed to the conditions found in the EDR building with high vaporized acid mixed with oxygen (see Figure 7). The stainless steel offers excellent corrosion protection as well, but there are different types required in acidic areas that are not as common as the typical 316 stainless steel (see Figure 8).

The last issue discovered during the observation was an overall dusting of corrosion (see Figure 9). This dusting is likely caused by inadequate ventilation and air exchange rates. The exchange of air is required to properly ventilate any area of high acid vapors (see Figure 10). When not properly ventilated, areas of corrosion are often found, similar to what is in the chlorine rooms. Corrosion on the stainless steel and copper fixtures could be mitigated if proper ventilation is put into place. It is understood that the HVAC system at the plant has been recently upgraded and the area is now likely receiving proper air ventilation. The visible corrosion residue that has been gathered on the equipment may have developed prior to the upgrade to the HVAC system.

SUMMARY AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The use of HCl can cause several issues and subsequent damage to areas if not placed properly. Many of these issues can be mitigated by addressing the problems in the affected areas. The following items should be addressed to ensure the use of the HCl does not continue to be a problem:

• Concrete Flooring – A properly specified coating system should be maintained on the concrete flooring to prevent any future break down when exposed to HCl and other acidic fluids. From our observations it was noted that the coating failure has occurred in HCl room and the main equipment room of the plant. It is recommended to replace the entire coating system with one that is adequate to handle exposure to HCl and other acid fluids. Due to the large amount of equipment that is currently in place, the replacement of the entire coating system on the floor is not practical. Smaller areas can be addressed where the coating system is failing as long as the surface is properly prepared, and a new coating system can be put in place. Standards for concrete surface preparation is the NACE 6/SSPC SP13 Surface Prep of Concrete.

In areas where the concrete in severely damaged (such as in the drainage troughs) a concrete re-surfacer will be required along with an adequate coating system. Previous discussions were had for installation of a liner that could be utilized in the trough. After research was performed a liner would not feasible due to the types of chemicals and acids utilized in the water treatment process and the required accessibility.

For the use of products there are several options for a concrete coating system. Coatings systems are not limited to specific manufactures as long as a thick-build coating system is used. Thick-build coatings should have a dry film thickness (DFT) of 10-40 mils. Tnemec and Sherwin Williams both provide coating systems for this type of application. Table 1 provides recommendations that can be utilized with the specified areas:

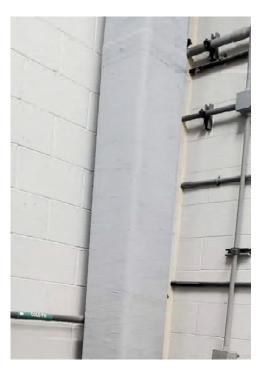

Areas to be Coated	Recommended Manufacturer	Product	Required Coating Thickness
Flooring	Tnemec	Primer/Top Coat - Perma-Glaze Series 435	30 - 40 mils
Flooring	Sherwin Williams	Primer - ArmorSeal 33 Top Coat - ArmorSeal 650	8 mils 30 mils
	Tnemec	Resurfacer - MortarClad Series 218 Basecoat - Perma-Shield 434 Topcoat - Perma-Glaze 435	1/16 - 1/4 - inch 125 mils 15 - 20 mils
Trough	Sherwin Williams	Resurfacer - Dura-Plate 2300 Basecoat - Dura-Plate 5900 with aggregate Topcoat - Dura-Plate 5900	1/16 - 1/4 - inch 125 mils 15 - 20 mils

Table 1Concrete Coating Recommendations

• Material Selection – The material present in the area where there is high HCl content has shown signs of corrosion. The recommendation for this is to replace as needed with materials that can withstand exposure to HCl. The newly designed area that contains the Hydrofluorosilicic Acid provides great examples of the types of materials that are required for protection from corrosion (see Figure 11). Table 2 provides a summary for replacement materials.

• Ventilation – As previously mentioned, it is understood that the HVAC system has been updated by MWD to provide more air circulation. It is recommended that the rooms be cleaned of any corrosion residue and monitor any accumulation. This will help determine if the HVAC system is achieving the specified air changes for the room and that no air movement dead zones are present.

It is recommended that the items listed in Tables 1 and 2 be addressed through regular maintenance and an annual replacement program performed by MWD. These items in the chemical room including corroded bolts, equipment supports, ductwork, and any other items affected by the HCl. Through the assessment there was no observed signs of items with pending failure and need for any immediate repair. All systems appeared to be functioning properly. Corroded items should be swapped out and replace with compatible corrosion resistance materials over time.

By working through these recommendations, the life of the equipment will be extended and continue to function properly. Regular maintenance will be required to provide any upkeep on the materials found within the EDR building.

The Clear Direction for Your Future.

Dear Plan Sponsor:

Enclosed is the draft copy of your Post PPA document restatement for your retirement plan.

All Defined Contribution plan documents (including 401(k), Profit Sharing, and Money Purchase Plans) periodically need to be restated. We are currently in a mandatory restatement period and all documents must to be restated no later than July 31, 2022.

Why does our Plan need to be Restated?

Plan documents are drafted based on laws and regulations put in place by Congress, the Treasury Department (IRS), and the Department of Labor. As those laws and regulations change, documents must be updated to reflect those changes. Since the last restatement period, there have been several regulatory and legislative changes affecting retirement plans, including the following:

- Expansion of the definition of "spouse" to include those of the same gender;
- · Availability of plan forfeitures to offset certain additional types of company contributions;
- Ability to amend safe harbor 401(k) plans once the year has already started;
- · Creation of in-plan Roth transfers.

In addition, the Post PPA documents will incorporate permanently the amendments that had been adopted for your previous (PPA) document.

What is the timing for the Post PPA restatements?

All defined contribution plans must adopt Post PPA provisions no later than July 31, 2022. We will be restating your plan effective January 1, 2022.

Please take the opportunity to review this draft and assess whether or not it is meeting all of the needs of you and your employees. Should you want to make any changes, please contact our office for a review of your plan and we can discuss what changes may be beneficial to incorporate into the final copy of your Post PPA restatement.

If you have any questions please contact our office.

The contribution for a group shall then be further allocated to the members of such group who are eligible to receive allocations of Non-Elective Contributions in the method as specified in this section for such group. The amount allocated to one group need not bear any relationship to amounts allocated to any other group. In the event that an eligible Participant is included in more than one group, the Participant's share of the contribution allocated to each group will be based upon either the amount of service or the Plan Compensation for the part of the year the Participant was in the group.

In the case of self-employed individuals (i.e., sole proprietorships or partnerships), the requirements of Treas. To the extent provided above, a Participant may receive a distribution up to $5,000 during the 1-year period beginning on the date on which the Participant's child is born or on which the legal adoption by the Participant of an eligible adoptee is finalized. The $5,000 maximum is an aggregate amount of such distributions from all plans maintained by the Employer.

Notwithstanding other provisions of the Plan to the contrary and if selected above, a Participant or beneficiary who would have been required to receive required minimum distributions in 2020 (or paid in 2021 for the 2020 calendar year for a Participant with a required beginning date of 04/01/2021) but for the enactment of section 401(a)(9)(1) of the Code ("2020 RMDs"), and who would have satisfied that requirement by receiving distributions that are either: (1) equal to the 2020 RMDs, or (2) one or more payments (that include the 2020 RMDs) in a series of substantially equal periodic payments made at least annually and expected to last for the life (or life expectancy) of the Participant, the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of the Participant and the Participant's designated beneficiary, or for a period of at least 10 years ("Extended 2020 RMDs"), may receive those distributions.

C. Distribution on Account of Death for Certain Eligible Retirement Plans

Whether before or after distribution has begun, a Participant's entire interest will be distributed to the designated beneficiary by 12/31 of the calendar year containing the tenth anniversary of the Participant's death unless the designated beneficiary meets the requirements of an "eligible designated beneficiary". An "eligible designated beneficiary" may receive distributions over the life of such designated beneficiary. If there is no designated beneficiary as of 09/30 of the year following the year of the Participant's death, the Participant's entire interest will be distributed by 12/31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Participant's death.

An "eligible designated beneficiary" is defined as any designated beneficiary who is: (i) the surviving spouse of the Participant; (ii) a minor child of the Participant; (iii) disabled; (iv) a chronically ill individual; or (v) an individual who is not more than 10 years younger than the Participant. #### F. Portability of Lifetime Income Investments

To the extent provided above, any amounts invested in a "lifetime income investment" may be distributed through either "qualified distributions" or "qualified plan distribution annuity contracts" no earlier than 90 days prior to the date that such "lifetime income investment" may no longer be held as an investment option under the Plan.

The following terms are used in this section:

"Qualified distribution" means a direct trustee-to-trustee transfer described in Code section 401(a)(31)(A) to an eligible retirement plan (as defined in Code section 402(c)(8)(B)).

"Qualified plan distribution annuity contract" means an annuity contract purchased for a Participant and distributed to the Participant by a plan or contract described in subparagraph (B) of Code section 402(c)(8) (without regard to clauses (i) and (ii) thereof).

"Lifetime income investment" means an investment option which is designed to provide an employee with election rights which: (a) are not uniformly available with respect to other investment options under the plan, and (b) are to a "lifetime income feature" available through a contract or other arrangement offered under the plan (or under another eligible retirement plan (as so defined), if paid by means of a direct trustee-to-trustee transfer described in Code section 401(a)(31)(A) to such other eligible retirement plan).

"Lifetime income feature" means: (a) a feature which guarantees a minimum level of income annually (or more frequently) for at least the remainder of the life of the employee or the joint lives of the employee and the employee's designated beneficiary, or (b) an annuity payable on behalf of the employee under which payments are made in substantially equal periodic payments (not less frequently than annually) over the life of the employee or the joint lives of the employee's designated beneficiary.

G. Disaster or Coronavirus-Related Relief

Notwithstanding any provision of the Plan to the contrary, the Plan may grant temporary disaster or coronavirus-related relief in compliance with Code sections 1400M and 1400Q, section 15345 of the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008, section 702 of the Heartland Disaster Tax Relief Act of 2008, section 502 of the Disaster Tax Relief and Airport and Airway Extension Act of 2017, section 11028 of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017, section 20102 of the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018, subtitle II of Division Q of the Further Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2020, section 2202 of the Coronavirus, Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act, and Title III of Division EE of the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 ("Applicable Law"). This Section only applies to the extent the Plan has provided some or all of the relief listed below in compliance with Applicable Law.

A. Qualified Distributions

- I. "Qualified Distribution" means a distribution to a qualified individual within the applicable time periods as defined in the relevant sections of Applicable Law which may not exceed $100,000 in aggregate from all plans maintained by the Employer.
- II. If the Plan permits rollover contributions, at any time during the 3-year period beginning on the day after the Qualified Distribution was received, an individual may contribute as a rollover to the Plan an aggregate amount that does not exceed the amount of the Qualified Distribution.
- III. If the Plan permits rollover contributions, an individual who received a withdrawal for the purchase of a home, but could not use the withdrawal amount due to the disaster, may contribute as a rollover to the Plan an aggregate amount that does not exceed the amount of the withdrawal amount within the applicable time periods as defined in the relevant sections of Applicable Law.

B. Expanded Loan Provisions

- I. The maximum loan limit under Code section 72(p)(2)(A) may be applied by substituting "$100,000" for "$50,000" and substituting "the present value" for "one-half the present value" under the Loan Procedures for a qualified individual within the applicable time periods as defined in the relevant sections of Applicable Law.
- II. The loan repayment may be delayed for 1 year for a qualified individual within the applicable time periods as defined in the relevant sections of Applicable Law.
- III. Subsequent repayments will be adjusted to reflect the 1-year delay and any interest accrued during such delay.
- IV. The 1-year delay will be disregarded in determining the 5-year maximum term of loans under Code section 72(p)(2)(B) and (C).

H. Difficulty of Care Payments Included in Statutory Compensation

In determining the contribution limitation, Statutory Compensation will be increased by qualified foster care payments. Qualified foster care payments are difficulty of care payments excluded from gross income under Code section 131. Any contribution by the Participant which is allowable due to such increase is treated as an after-tax contribution.

I. Long-Term, Part-Time Employees

Notwithstanding any provision of the Plan to the contrary, effective for Plan years beginning after 12/31/2020, any Employee working at least 500 hours of service during each of three consecutive 12-month periods ("LTPT Employee") becomes a Participant eligible to make Elective Deferrals on the date specified in the Plan provided that he or she is an Eligible Employee and has attained the applicable age requirement, if any, on such date. No 12-month period beginning before 01/01/2021 is taken into account. Each 12-month period for which an LTPT Employee has at least 500 hours of service is treated as a year of service for vesting purposes.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained herein, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound, hereby agree and declare as follows:

ARTICLE I TRUST FUND

IKUSI FUND

Section 1.01 Trust Fund. A Trust is hereby established or continued under the Plan and the Trustee will maintain a trust account for the Plan and, as part thereof, accounts for such individuals as the Employer shall from time to time give written notice to the Trustee are Participants in the Plan. The Trustee will accept and hold in the Trust Fund such contributions on behalf of Participants as it may receive from time to time from the Employer, including amounts transferred by any prior trustee of the Plan, and such earnings, income and appreciation as may accrue thereon; less losses, depreciation and payments made by the Trustee to carry out the purposes of the Plan. The Trust Fund shall be fully invested and reinvested in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Plan.

Section 1.02 Exclusive Benefit. All contributions made to the Plan are made for the exclusive benefit of the Participants and their Beneficiaries, and such contributions shall not be used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of the Participants and their Beneficiaries (including the costs of maintaining and administering the Plan and corresponding Trust).

Section 1.03 Return of Contributions. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Plan: (a) as contributions made prior to the receipt of an initial determination letter are conditional upon a favorable determination as to the qualified status of the Plan under Code section 401(a), if the Plan receives an adverse determination with respect to its initial qualification, then any such contribution may be returned to the Employer within one year after such determination, provided the application for determination is made by the time prescribed by law; (b) contributions made by the Employer based upon mistake of fact may be returned to the Employer within one year of such contribution; (c) as all contributions to the Plan are conditioned upon their deductibility under the Code, if a deduction for such a contribution is disallowed, such contribution may be returned to the Employer within one year of the disallowance of such deduction; and (d) after all liabilities under the Plan have been satisfied, the remaining assets of the Trust shall be distributed to the Employer if such distribution does not contravene any provision of applicable law.

In the case of the return of a contribution due to mistake of fact or the disallowance of a deduction, the amount that may be returned is the excess of the amount contributed over the amount that would have been contributed had there not been a mistake or disallowance. Earnings attributable to the excess contributions may not be returned to the Employer but losses attributable thereto must reduce the amount to be so returned. Any return of contribution or distribution of assets made by the Trustee pursuant to this Section shall be made only upon the direction of the Employer, which shall have exclusive responsibility for determining whether the conditions of such return or distribution have been satisfied and for the amount to be returned.

Section 1.04 Assets Not Held by Trustee. The Trustee shall not be responsible for any assets of the Plan that are held outside of the Trust Fund. The Trustee is expressly hereby relieved of any responsibility or liability for any losses resulting to the Plan arising from any acts or omissions on the part of any insurance company holding assets outside of the Trust Fund. The Trustee may require the Employer to serve as custodian for all promissory notes and related documents issued in connection with the Plan's Participant loan program and require the Employer to be responsible for the safekeeping of same.

Section 1.05 Group Trust. In the event that the Trust is a part of any group trust (within the meaning of Internal Revenue Service Revenue Rulings 81-100 and 2011-1): (a) participation in the Trust is limited to (i) individual retirement accounts which are exempt under Code section 408(e), (ii) pension and profit-sharing trusts which are exempt under Code section 501(a) by qualifying under Code section 401(a) and (iii) accounts under Code sections 403(b)(7), 403(b)(9) and governmental retiree benefit plans under Code section 401(a)(24) to the extent the requirements of Revenue Ruling 2011-1 are met; (b) no part of the corpus or income which equitably belongs to any individual retirement account or Employer's trust may be used for or diverted to any purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of the individual or the Employees, respectively, or their Beneficiaries who are entitled to benefits under such participating individual retirement account or Employer's trust; (c) no part of the equity or interest in the Trust Fund shall be subject to assignment by a participating individual retirement account or Employer's trust; and (d) the Trustee shall maintain separate accounts for each participating trust or individual retirement account.

ARTICLE II DUTIES OF THE TRUSTEE

Section 2.01 In General. The Trustee is not a party to, and has no duties or responsibilities under the Plan, other than those that may be expressly contained in this Article. The Trustee shall have no duties, responsibilities or liability with respect to the acts or omissions of any prior trustee. The Trustee shall discharge its assigned duties and responsibilities under this Article and the Plan with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

Section 2.02 Contributions. The Trustee agrees to accept contributions that are paid to it by the Plan Administrator (as well as rollover contributions and direct transfers from other eligible retirement plans) in accordance with the terms of this Article. Such contributions shall be in cash or in such other form that may be acceptable to the Trustee. In-kind contributions of other than qualifying employer securities are permitted only in non-pension plans provided that the contribution is discretionary and unencumbered. Qualifying employer securities may be contributed to both pension and non-pension plans subject to the requirements of ERISA section 408(e). The Trustee shall have no responsibility for any property until it is received by the Trustee. The Plan Administrator shall have the sole duty and responsibility for the determination of the accuracy or sufficiency of the contributions to be made under the Plan, the transmittal of the same to the Trustee and compliance with any statute, regulation or rule applicable to contributions.

Section 2.03 Distributions. The Trustee shall make distributions out of the Trust Fund pursuant to instructions described in Article V. The Trustee shall not have any responsibility or duty under this Article for determining that such are in accordance with the terms of the Plan and applicable law, including without limitation, the amount, timing or method of payment and the identity of each person to whom such payments shall be made. The Trustee shall have no responsibility or duty to determine the tax effect of any payment or to see to the application of any payment. In making payments, the Employer acknowledges that the Trustee is acting as a paying agent and not as the payor, for tax information reporting and withholding purposes. In the event that any dispute shall arise as to the persons to whom payment or delivery of any assets shall be made by the Trustee, the Trustee may withhold such payment or delivery until such dispute shall have been settled by the parties concerned or shall have been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 2.04 Records. The Trustee shall keep full and accurate accounts of all receipts, investments, disbursements and other transactions hereunder, including such specific records as may be agreed upon in writing between the Employer and the Trustee. All such accounts, books and records shall be open to inspection and audit at all reasonable times by any authorized representative of the Employer or the Plan Administrator. A Participant may examine only those individual account records pertaining directly to him.

Section 2.05 Accounting. The Trustee shall file with the Plan Administrator a written account of the administration of the Trust Fund showing all transactions effected by the Trustee subsequent to the period covered by the last preceding account and all property held at the end of the accounting period. The Trustee shall use its best effort to file such written account within ninety (90) days, but not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each Plan Year. Upon approval of such accounting by the Plan Administrator, neither the Employer nor the Plan Administrator shall be entitled to any further accounting by the Trustee. The Plan Administrator may approve such accounting by written notice of approval delivered to the Trustee or by failure to express objection to such accounting in writing delivered to the Trustee within six (6) months from the date on which the accounting is delivered to the Plan Administrator.

Section 2.06 Participant Eligibility. The Trustee shall not be required to determine the facts concerning the eligibility of any Participant to participate in the Plan, the amount of benefits payable to any Participant or Beneficiary under the Plan, or the date or method of payment or disbursement. The Trustee shall be fully entitled to rely in good faith solely upon the written advice and directions of the Plan Administrator as to any such question of fact.

Section 2.07 Indicia of Ownership. The Trustee shall not hold the indicia of ownership of any assets of the Trust Fund outside of the jurisdiction of the District Courts of the United States, unless in compliance with section 404(b) of ERISA and regulations thereunder.

Section 2.08 Notice. The Trustee shall provide the Employer with advance notice of any legal actions the Trustee may take with respect to the Plan and Trust and shall promptly notify the Employer of any claim against the Plan and Trust.

Section 2.09 Other Fiduciaries. The Trustee shall not be responsible for the acts or omissions of any other persons except as may be required by ERISA section 405.

ARTICLE IV OTHER INVESTMENT POWERS

Section 4.01 Requirement for Preapproval. The powers granted the Trustee under Article III shall be exercised by the Trustee upon the written direction from the Investment Fiduciary pursuant to Article V and VI. Any written direction of the Investment Fiduciary may be of a continuing nature, but may be revoked in writing by the Investment Fiduciary at any time. The Trustee shall comply with any direction as promptly as possible, provided it does not contravene the terms of the Plan or the provision of any applicable law. The Investment Fiduciary, by written direction, may require the Trustee to obtain written approval of the Investment Fiduciary before exercising such of its powers as may be specified in such direction. Any such direction may be of a continuing nature or otherwise and may be revoked in writing by the Investment Fiduciary at any time. The Trustee shall not be responsible for any loss that may result from the failure or refusal of the Investment Fiduciary to give any such required direction or approval.

Section 4.02 Prohibited Transactions. The Trustee shall not engage in any prohibited transaction within the meaning of the Code and ERISA.

Section 4.03 Legal Actions. The Trustee is authorized to execute all necessary receipts and releases and shall be under the duty to make efforts to collect such sums as may appear to be due (except contributions hereunder); provided, however, that the Trustee shall not be required to institute suit or maintain any litigation to collect the proceeds of any asset unless it has been indemnified to its satisfaction for counsel fees, costs, disbursements and all other expenses and liabilities to which it may in its judgment be subjected by such action. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, the Trustee is authorized to compromise and adjust claims arising out of any asset held in the Trust Fund upon such terms and conditions as the Trustee may deem just, and the action so taken by the Trustee shall be binding and conclusive upon all persons interested in the Trust Fund.

Section 4.04 Retention of Advisors. The Trustee, with the consent of the Investment Fiduciary, may retain the services of investment advisors to invest and reinvest the assets of the Trust Fund, as well as employ such legal, actuarial, medical, accounting, clerical and other assistance as may be required in carrying out the provisions of the Plan. The Trustee may also appoint custodians, subcustodians or subtrustees as to part or all of the Trust Fund.

ARTICLE V INSTRUCTIONS

Section 5.01 Reliance on Instructions. Whenever the Trustee is permitted or required to act upon the directions or instructions of the Investment Fiduciary, Plan Administrator or Employer, the Trustee shall be entitled to act in good faith upon any written communication signed by any person or agent designated to act as or on behalf of the Investment Fiduciary, Plan Administrator or Employer. Such person or agent shall be so designated either under the provisions of the Plan or in writing by the Employer and their authority shall continue until revoked in writing. The Trustee shall incur no liability for failure to act in good faith on such person's or agent's instructions or orders without written communication, and the Trustee shall be fully protected in all actions taken in good faith in reliance upon any instructions, directions, certifications and communications believed to be genuine and to have been signed or communicated by the proper person.

Section 5.02 Designation of Agent.

(1) Employer. The Employer shall notify the Trustee in writing as to the appointment, removal or resignation of any person designated to act as or on behalf of the Investment Fiduciary, Plan Administrator or Employer. After such notification, the Trustee shall be fully protected in acting in good faith upon the directions of, or dealing with, any person designated to act as or on behalf of the Investment Fiduciary, Plan Administrator or Employer until it receives notice to the contrary. The Trustee shall have no duty to inquire into the qualifications of any person designated to act as or on behalf of the Investment Fiduciary, Plan Administrator or Employer.

(2) Trustee. If there is more than one Trustee, the Trustees may designate one or more of the Trustees to act on behalf of the Trustees. Such designated Trustee shall be authorized to take any and all actions and execute and deliver such documents as may be necessary or appropriate.

Section 5.03 Procedures. The Trustee may adopt such rules and procedures as it deems necessary, desirable, or appropriate including, but not limited to: (a) taking action with or without formal meetings; and (b) in the event that there is more than one Trustee, a procedure specifying whether action may be taken by a less than unanimous vote.

Section 5.04 Payment of Benefits. The Trustee shall pay benefits and expenses from the Trust Fund only upon the written direction of the Plan Administrator. The Trustee shall be fully entitled to rely in good faith on such directions furnished by the Plan Administrator, and shall be under no duty to ascertain whether the directions are in accordance with the provisions of the Plan.

ARTICLE VI INVESTMENT OF THE FUND

Section 6.01 Investment Funds. The Investment Fiduciary shall have the exclusive authority and discretion to select the investment funds available for investment under the Plan ("Investment Funds"). In making such selection, the Investment Fiduciary shall use the care, skill, prudence and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims. The available investments under the Plan shall be sufficiently diversified so as to minimize the risk of large losses, unless under the circumstances it is clearly prudent not to do so. The Investment Fiduciary shall notify the Trustee in writing of the selection of the Investment Funds currently available for investment under the Plan, and any changes thereto.

Section 6.02 Participant Self-Direction. Participants shall not have the right to direct the investment of amounts allocated to their separate accounts under the Plan.

Section 6.03 Investment Managers.

(1) Appointment of Investment Managers. The Investment Fiduciary may appoint one or more investment managers as described in section 3(38) of ERISA ("Investment Managers") with respect to some or all of the assets of the Trust Fund as contemplated by section 402(c)(3) of ERISA. Any such Investment Manager shall acknowledge to the Investment Fiduciary in writing that it accepts such appointment and that it is an ERISA fiduciary with respect to the Plan and the Trust Fund. The Investment Fiduciary shall provide the Trustee with a copy of the written agreement (and any amendments thereto) between the Investment Fiduciary and the Investment Manager. By notifying the Trustee of the appointment of an Investment Manager, the Investment Fiduciary shall be deemed to certify that such Investment Manager meets the requirements of section 3(38) of ERISA. The authority of the Investment Manager shall continue until the Investment Fiduciary rescinds the appointment or the Investment Manager has resigned.

(2) Separation of Duties. The assets with respect to which a particular Investment Manager has been appointed shall be specified by the Investment Fiduciary and shall be segregated in a separate account for the Investment Manager (the "Separate Account") and the Investment Manager shall have the power to direct the Trustee in every aspect of the investment of the assets of the Separate Account. The Trustee shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of an Investment Manager and shall have no liability or responsibility for acting pursuant to the direction of, or failing to act in the absence of, any direction from an Investment Manager, unless the Trustee knows that by such action or failure to act it would be itself committing a breach of fiduciary duty or participating in a breach of fiduciary duty by such Investment Manager, it being the intention of the parties that each party shall have the full protection of section 405(d) of ERISA.

Section 6.04 Proxies.

(1) Delivery of Information. The Trustee shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Employer or Plan Administrator all notices, prospectuses, financial statements, proxies and proxy soliciting materials received by the Trustee relating to securities held by the Trust or, if applicable, deliver these materials to the appropriate Participant or the Beneficiary of a deceased Participant.

(2) Voting. The Trustee shall not vote any securities held by the Trust except in accordance with the written instructions of the Employer, the Investment Fiduciary, or if otherwise permitted in the Plan, the Participant or the Beneficiary of the Participant, if the Participant is deceased. However, the Trustee may, in the absence of instructions, vote "present" for the sole purpose of allowing such shares to be counted for establishment of a quorum at a shareholders' meeting. The Trustee shall have no duty to solicit instructions from Participants, Beneficiaries, the Investment Fiduciary or the Employer.

(3) Investment Manager. To the extent not delegated to Participants pursuant to subsection (2), the Investment Manager shall be responsible for making any proxy voting or tender offer decisions with respect to securities held in the Separate Account and the Investment Manager shall maintain a record of the reasons for the manner in which it voted proxies or responded to tender offers.

ARTICLE VII COMPENSATION AND INDEMNIFICATION

Section 7.01 Compensation. The Trustee shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for its services as is mutually agreed upon with the Employer; provided that such compensation does not result in a prohibited transaction within the meaning of the Code and ERISA. If the Trustee and the Employer mutually agree that the Trustee may retain as additional compensation for its services any earnings resulting from the anticipated short-term investment of funds ("float") on Plan assets deposited in or transferred to a Trustee general or omnibus account, then the Trustee shall be authorized to retain such float; provided, that such agreement: (i) discloses the specific circumstances under which float will be earned and retained, (ii) in the case of float on distributions, discloses when the float period commences and ends, and (iii) discloses the rate of the float or the specific manner in which such rate will be determined. If approved by the Plan Administrator, the Trustee shall also be entitled to reimbursement for all direct expenses properly and actually incurred on behalf of the Plan. Such compensation or reimbursement shall be paid to the Trustee out of the Trust Fund unless paid directly by the Employer.

Section 7.02 Indemnification. The Employer shall indemnify and hold harmless the Trustee (and its delegates) from all claims, liabilities, losses, damages and expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses, incurred by the Trustee in connection with its duties hereunder to the extent not covered by insurance, except when the same is due to the Trustee's own gross negligence, willful misconduct, lack of good faith, or breach of its fiduciary duties under the Plan or ERISA.

ARTICLE VIII RESIGNATION AND REMOVAL

Section 8.01 Resignation. The Trustee may resign at any time by written notice to the Plan Administrator which shall be effective 60 days after delivery unless prior thereto a successor Trustee assumes the responsibilities of Trustee hereunder.

Section 8.02 Removal. The Trustee may be removed by the Employer at any time.

Section 8.03 Successor Trustee. The appointment of a successor Trustee hereunder shall be accomplished by and shall take effect upon the delivery to the resigning or removed Trustee, as the case may be, of written notice of the Employer appointing such successor Trustee, and an acceptance in writing of the office of successor Trustee hereunder executed by the successor so appointed. Any successor Trustee may be either a corporation authorized and empowered to exercise trust powers or one or more individuals. All of the provisions set forth herein with respect to the Trustee shall relate to each successor Trustee so appointed with the same force and effect as if such successor Trustee had been originally named herein as the Trustee hereunder. If within 45 days after notice of resignation shall have been given under the provisions of this Article a successor Trustee shall not have been appointed, the resigning Trustee or the Employer may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Trustee.

Section 8.04 Transfer of Trust Fund. Upon the appointment of a successor Trustee, the resigning or removed Trustee shall transfer and deliver the Trust Fund to such successor Trustee, after reserving such reasonable amount as it shall deem necessary to provide for its expenses in the settlement of its account, the amount of any compensation due to it and any sums chargeable against the Trust Fund for which it may be liable. If the sums so reserved are not sufficient for such purposes, the resigning or removed Trustee shall be entitled to reimbursement for any deficiency from the Employer.

SUCCESSION PLANNING

EMPLOYEE SURVEY

TO: All Employees

FROM: Clint Dilley, P.E., General Manager

DATE: 1/5/22

RE: (DRAFT) Succession Planning Employee Survey

PURPOSE OF SURVEYS

The purpose of the attached employee survey is for succession planning. Providing 24/7 delivery of safe, cost-effective water and wastewater services can only happen with a team of highly skilled and knowledgeable employees. These skills and knowledge take years to develop through a combination of training, studying, testing, certifications, and on the job experience.

Fortunately, Magna Water District has been successful in retaining employees over the years with many having completed 30 or 40+ years of service prior to retirement. In addition to the sense of pride and job satisfaction that comes from working in an essential service industry, we believe the District's success in retaining employees has been due to a combination of factors including exceptional employees, outstanding board member leadership and vision, continuous training and education, tuition reimbursement, priority for in-house promotion, strong labor union representation and participation, practical and sound executive management, and a robust wages and benefit package.

While it is difficult to lose the experience, knowledge, and daily interactions with one of our employees when he or she leaves employment with the District, significant negative impacts to District operations can arise if an employee leaves his or her position with little notice, making it difficult to properly plan in advance for a transition of the job responsibilities to another employee. It is therefore critical that we do succession planning, which will allow the District to provide as smooth of a transition as possible when these changes occur while, at the same time, providing a path and opportunity for our newest team members to grow and develop into these key roles.

Although we feel there are a lot of good things happening here at the District, there is always room for improvement. Routine feedback and evaluation of standard practices help ensure continued long-term success and improvement. In order to do that, we need to get feedback from our team. Please take a moment to fill out the attached two part survey – please add your name and date to Part 1 of the survey. Part 2 of the survey is anonymous so that you feel comfortable providing honest feedback without fear of repercussions. Please return Part 1 of the survey to your supervisor by 1/25/22. Please fold and drop Part 2 of the survey into any one of the black suggestion/comment boxes located at any of the District's offices by 1/31/22.
